My background:

I have been an educator from 1970 to 2011. I've held different positions from middle school teacher to counselor and school psychologist. I retired from Edmonds School District as an elementary school counselor and psychologist.

I also raised two children with my husband and currently have five grand children.

I started attending Unity in Lynnwood in the spring of 2014 and joined shortly after that. I've been a volunteer as greeter for several years and also helped with organizing small groups. Later, I trained and served as a prayer chaplain for a year and a half. Currently I am serving on the Board of Trustees as the Secretary.

I have a deep commitment to UIL's place in the community and want to be part of its progress.

I am deeply committed to helping Unity in Lynnwood (UIL) to continue providing a welcoming community for youth and adults. By joining the Board, I hope to leverage my technical acumen, church administration experience, and passion for community building to help UIL grow and thrive.

As a software engineer with over 25 years of experience, I would bring a wealth of technical knowledge and problem-solving skills to the UIL board of directors. My professional background has honed my ability to analyze complex systems, implement efficient solutions, and adapt to rapidly changing technologies—skills that can greatly benefit UIL’s operations and growth.

In addition to my technical expertise, I have relevant experience in church administration and finance. As a member of the finance committee at Edmonds Unitarian Universalist Congregation, I’ve gained valuable insights into the fiscal management of religious organizations. Furthermore, I played a key role in migrating and administering their Church Management software, demonstrating my ability to bridge the gap between technology and church operations.

My commitment to UIL extends beyond my professional capabilities. I believe in the power of inclusive spiritual spaces and am eager to contribute to UIL’s mission of providing such an environment.
